

TRANSATLANTIC RELATIONS: CHARTING A NEW COURSE

Rome, 8 October 2018

Sala Aldo Moro
Italian Ministry of Foreign Affairs and International Cooperation

8.45 AM
REGISTRATION & WELCOME COFFEE

9.15 AM
INTRODUCTORY REMARKS

Manlio di Stefano, Undersecretary of State for Foreign Affairs and International Cooperation, Italian Ministry of Foreign Affairs and International Cooperation

Lewis Eisenberg, United States Ambassador to Italy

Noel V. Lateef, President and CEO, Foreign Policy Association

Paolo Magri, Executive Vice President and Director, ISPI

9.40 AM
THE FUTURE OF SECURITY COOPERATION: CURRENT AND FUTURE NATO INITIATIVES

Paolo Alli, Former President, NATO Parliamentary Assembly

Ian Brzezinski, Resident Senior Fellow, Scowcroft Center for Strategy and Security, Atlantic Council

Louis Susman, Former United States Ambassador to the United Kingdom (2009-2013)

Chair

Maurizio Caprara, Corriere della Sera

in cooperation with

10.50 AM

BREAK

11.15 AM

THE FUTURE OF TRANSATLANTIC TRADE

Dan Ikenson, Director, Herbert A. Stiefel Center for Trade Policy Studies, CATO Institute

Matthew Oxenford, Research Associate, Global Economy and Finance, Chatham House

Beniamino Quintieri, President, SACE

Domenico Siniscalco, Vice Chairman, Country Head Italy, Head of Government Coverage EMEA, Morgan Stanley. Italy's former Minister of Economy and Finance

Chair

Gyneth Sick, Aspenia

12.40 PM

THE FUTURE OF THE RELATIONSHIP WITH RUSSIA

Giancarlo Aragona, Ambassador of Italy to Russia (1999-2002) and Member of the Group of Experts entrusted with the preparation of NATO's New Strategic Concept (2009-2010)

Richard Hooker Jr., NDU Director for Research and Strategic Support and Director, Institute for National Strategic Studies (INSS)

Chair

Maria Cuffaro, RAI

13.45 PM

BUFFET LUNCH

in cooperation with

Farnesina

Ministry of Foreign Affairs and International Cooperation